

Broaden Your Professional Horizons

The International Association for Energy Economics is the world's leading professional organization for energy economists. IAEE offers a wide variety of products and services designed to help you achieve your professional goals and take your career to the next level.

IAEE Website

Visit the IAEE website for a one stop tour of all our member benefits—published in seven languages.

Publications

The Energy Journal is recognized as the leading international journal in energy economics and related disciplines. Energy Forum presents articles on a wide range of applied energy economics and policy issues plus notices about upcoming events.

Online Membership Directory

Search the complete database of IAEE members worldwide, their business affiliation, contact information, and energy specializations—an invaluable resource for research and networking.

IAEE Energy Blog

Participate in lively and thought-provoking discussions on the IAEE Energy Blog—a network designed exclusively for members to discuss common energy interests and concerns.

Conferences

Join participants from the most influential energy decision-making institutions at IAEE conferences. Members receive discounted registration fees.

Online Conference Proceedings

Access the full proceedings of IAEE meetings available free of charge to members on the Association website.

Affiliates

Stay informed about the many IAEE country affiliates who offer their own programs of events.

Working Paper Series

Take advantage of this opportunity to present and access research papers on a wide range of energy economics and energy policy topics.

Placement Service

Search employment opportunities posted on the Association's website and upload your resume to IAEE's database for employers to view.

Student Programs

Network with fellow students of energy economics through IAEE's robust student programs—best paper awards at conferences, an online student directory, networking opportunities at IAEE events, and conference scholarships.

Member Publication Listing

List your published articles/books on IAEE's website to promote awareness and networking among fellow members.

IAEE Merchandise

Enhance your IAEE membership with a variety of logo merchandise including shirts, hats, mouse pads, static clings, bumper stickers, key chains and pens.

Join online www.iaee.org/en/membership

or call 216.464.5365