4. Electronic Transfer of Your Paper:

Your paper must be electronically transferred to IAEE Conference Headquarters by March 3, 2003, in one of the following formats.

- i. PDF File (preferred): These files can be created by either Acrobat Distiller or Acrobat PDF Writer. Make sure to embed all fonts/graphics/pictures/tables, etc. This is the preferred way of transferring your paper for publication in the conference proceedings CD-Rom.
- ii. Postscript Files: We will work with Postscript (.PS) or Encapsulated Postscript (.EPS) files that are compatible with Acrobat Distiller. All fonts/graphics/pictures/tables, etc., must be embedded.

- iii. Quark Xpress (Macintosh) or Adobe PageMaker: These files are acceptable yet not preferred. These files must contain all text and graphics, etc. You must include all native file or files, all linked graphic files and all screen and corresponding printer fonts. Quark Xpress users should use the “collect for output” to ensure accuracy of all fonts and graphics. These files will be converted to PDF files and may lose formatting and integrity. Note that it may not be possible to accurately convert to PDF files if you have any missing files or fonts.
 - iv. Word Processing Files (MS Word, WordPerfect or PowerPoint): Ensure that all fonts/graphics/pictures/tables, etc. are embedded into one document. The printer will convert your paper to PDF format with minimal checking for page breaks and conversion problems. Errors may occur in file conversion from word processing to PDF files. Finally, make sure you do not embed your footnotes, as when converting your file to PDF format these will not be included.
 - v. Please transfer your paper electronically to iaee@iaee.org no later than March 3, 2003. Papers not received by this date will not be printed in the conference CD-Rom.
5. The abstract paper title you previously sent to IAEE Conference Headquarters is what will be printed in the conference program. The title of your paper will be listed in several different locations (e.g., program announcements, proceedings, marketing materials, etc.).
